

Athletic Field Design

Preserve your fields shining moments

Mike Hebrard, Athletic Field Design

Well hopefully after penning several articles the past five or so years we together collectively have improve the quality and aesthetics of your athletic fields. But does any one remember how fantastic the field looked for the homecoming or the big playoff game. If so, did anyone take pictures or do your stands go high enough up to get a good angle of what the grounds crew had accomplished..

Just like my business evolved from the need to improve fields and lack of maintenance dollars to properly layout and line fields, a newly formed business has been form to take air photos at a affordable cost.

Cal Abts saw a need to take photographs from high angles for business developments and surveying. From that Cal has discovered with his helium filled 18' mini blimp that he can get low level aerial photos to help preserve the memory of that special event.

It is also impressive to walk in an Athletic Directors office and seen an enlargement properly framed of that special event, or give a copy to that notable person that has supported your schools function for years, or even a retiring coach.

Feel free to contact Cal Abts at Sky Shots (503) 492-9301 for more information.
